

Sulatan

COMPOSITION

Each small capsule contains: Aprepitant 80 mg and excipients (q.s.)
Each large capsule contains: Aprepitant 125 mg and excipients (q.s.)

DRUG ACTION

This medicine is indicated to adults and teenagers from the age of 12 onwards, combined with other medicines to treat nausea and vomiting caused by some chemotherapy treatments, such as: cisplatin, cyclophosphamide, doxorubicin or epirubicin.

DOSAGE

Take Sulatan orally, with or without food. The capsule must be swallowed whole. Always take Sulatan together with other medicines to prevent nausea and vomiting including corticosteroids (such as dexamethasone) and an 5-HT<sub>3</sub> antagonist (such as an ondansetron).

The recommended treatment duration is 3 days. On the first day, take 1 capsule of 125 mg (large capsule), 1 hour before the start of the chemotherapy session. On the following two days, take 1 capsule of 80 mg (small capsule) every day, 1 hour before starting the chemotherapy session. If you are not receiving chemotherapy, take Sulatan in the morning.

Do not take more than what your doctor prescribed. Ask your doctor if you missed a dose.
